Crawford GTS® Further Bolsters Adjusting Team

ATLANTA (May 5, 2015) – Crawford & Company® (NYSE: CRDA; CRDB), the world's largest independent provider of claims management solutions, has announced that Alejandro Glaentzlin has re-joined Crawford Global Technical Services® (GTS®) as an international executive general adjuster. He is based in the Company's Mexico City office. GTS is Crawford's definitive global offering for major and complex incident claims handling.

"We are pleased to welcome Alejandro back to GTS. We have been building up our America's technical claims team, and he is a key addition to our growing capabilities," said John Sharoun, GTS CEO - the Americas. "He is a terrific example of our commitment to offering clients well-educated, highly trained, and deeply experienced professionals to help them during challenging situations."

Glaentzlin has 20 years' experience as an engineer and as a claims adjuster working in Venezuela and Argentina. Prior to joining GTS, Glaentzlin was a loss adjuster with Associated Loss Adjusters C.A., for seven years in Caracas, where he specialized in insurance policies of Industrial All Risk, Machinery Breakdown, Fire-catastrophic events and Business Interruption. Prior to that he had been a loss adjuster for engineering claims and losses with Crawford.

Glaentzlin has degree in Mechanical Engineering from the Universidad Metropolitana and currently is enrolled in postgraduate studies at the Universidad Central de Venezuela.
